

2018-07-29 Epsom on Sunday

Yet Another Sue

Jul 31, 2018 - 12:32AM

Epsom on Sunday

Following on from the Loughborough gig thread, it was still a talking point on Sunday at Epsom, amongst those of you who had been there, and Lee's Dad mentioned it in particular ,as having been a particularly fantastic night..

I think Lee maybe found the Epsom audience a bit reserved in comparison but we livened up eventually! Lovely to see Joe McFadden in the foyer happily posing for 'photos and supporting his Friend and colleague.

Thanks to everyone who willingly helped me physically to get about ,including the lady on my left ,who propped me up during the Joseph singalong/standing ovation at the end. I have considerable walking and balance issues and really thought that I would never get to see Lee again in concert, at least not without a wheelchair,

Also to the lady who facilitated my not having to queue for my signed 'photo; I hadn't actually been that close to Lee since Wimbledon in 2010!

What a humble and thoroughly nice man is Lee's Dad!

The Friend who had kindly gone along with me, had never seen Lee before and had a great evening. She especially loved his rendition of the song from Miss Saigon.

Perhaps she could be persuaded to accompany me when he gets that next West end role!

AnnieB

Jul 31, 2018 - 12:13PM

Re: Epsom on Sunday

Hello Sue, were you the lady in the row behind me I was speaking to in the interval when we were talking about Lee's last night of Joseph, it sounds like it from what you say? If so, it was lovely to meet you; I thought you had a familiar face, must have seen you during all the Joseph shows we went to and I remember your Forum name. Yes, I was one of those babbling on about how brilliant the Loughborough gig had been the previous evening, but Epsom was good wasn't, as you say the audience warmed up after a while and that always makes a difference. Hope you converted your friend to being a Lee fan, if not she doesn't know what she's missing. I'll see you (and your Friend!) again when Lee's starring in 'that' show in the West End Best wishes AnnieB

johartuk

Jul 31, 2018 - 1:32PM

Re: Epsom on Sunday

Thanks for that, YN Sue!

Yet Another Sue

Jul 31, 2018 - 2:41PM

Quote Reply

Re: Epsom on Sunday

Hi! Yes, that was me. What a lovely message. What a night and, yes, my friend was blown away. 18 months ago,I could just make it to the Palladium for panto but I have nosedived! Panic set in. I 'did'Joseph 5 times, West End Men x 2, Christmas concerts x 3 (fell backwards on the escalator at Waterloo East en route to the Barbican and nearly trapped my hand but I wasn't going to miss the concert), etc. Am pretty sure that my daughter and I saw him in Raoul in Phantom years ago; remember saying to her; "Isn't that young man with the curly hair brilliant? ". The one time I didn't buy a programme but timescale fits!!

